SALISBURY

One of the most charming weddings that has taken place here in a long time was that of Miss Mary Newby to Mr. Brummall Gerhart, which took place at the bride's home last week. Rev. Heaton sealing the vows. Our hat is off to this worthy couple and their parents.

W. A. Henderson has been on the sick list for several days, but not serious. We shall watch for him on the streets, feeling that he will soon be out again.

Our ball players are taking them as they come with a list of unbroken victories, but this cannot always be the case.

Rev. D. Ernest McCurry filled the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday night and later went to Slater to visit relatives.

Tony Hoette, the delivery man, has taken the contract for another year. A birthday dinner at the home of W. R. Sweeney, W. 4th street Sunday to celebrate the birth of his mother and himself was a very pleasant affair, and greatly enjoyed by all present.

The last round of strawberries is in this week and housewives are busy.

Rr. W. O. Hawkins of Roanoke, was over Monday looking after professional business.

Now and then the Indian war hoop can be heard on our streets, but no one has been scalped for a long time.

The children's day exercises at the Christian church Sunday morning, were full of interest and spirit. The collection was nearly $60 and met the expectation of the leaders.

The Hon. Ralph Lozier of Carrollton will deliver a lecture before adult classes at the Christian church Sunday morning. All adult classes in the town are invited and expected to attend, as this address is said to be unusually fine.

The strawberry season is about over and has been fine.

There was a tremendous crowd here Saturday night until midnight and city ways prevailed to some extent.

Mrs. W. K. Hejman is suffering seriously from an infected hand and arm. While capping strawberries with a short knife she cut her hand slightly and in a few minutes infection set in and she has had a serious time with it, but is out of danger now.

Mrs. Fred Lamb and daughter, Louise, left Monday afternoon for a visit with the family of Eli Shire of Lincoln, Neb. We wish them a safe and pleasant trip.

Street oiling goes on and the "mess" is awful, but it will be alright when it soaks in.

Home candidates can be seen now and then, but the "big ones" seem to think we will stand hitched whether they come around or not.

Tuesday was a hot day here, but corn growers said it was just what was needed, and it was too hot to argue the matter with them.

Will Carlstead of Prairie Hill was here Tuesday on business.

Jane Blake, an old colored woman who has been here for about 40 years is out of a home and needing attention.

CLOSE TO HOME

Three drug store robberies, one at Hawkins' and two at Digges Bros., makes it look as though somebody had picked them out as easy marks. In the early hours of Saturday morning burglars entered the store through the transom over the rear door, robbed the cash register of some change, and finding in the drawer a memorandum of the safe combination, opened the safe and carried off the cash drawer with its contents. Their loss in cash and checks aggregates a little more than $200. A list of the checks was not kept, but an estimate, deducting checks, showed a loss of about $125. The Moberly bloodhounds were sent for and worked out a trail, but nothing was developed, and there is really little hope of apprehending the thieves. The similarity of the work done in all three cases leads to the natural inference that the same parties were concerned in each of the three robberies.—Glasgow Missourian.

Okie Altice was a Salisbury visitor Monday.

J. W. Taylor made a business trip to Kansas City Tuesday.

Marcellus Hunt of Quincy, came Sunday to visit relatives.

Virgil Winkler of Illinois, who has been visiting relatives here returned to his home Thursday.

REPORT OF BIG ROAD MEETING

Yesterday was road day for Brownings as a meeting was called by the editor of this paper for a meeting of the good roads boosters from Unionville, Milan, Pollock, Purdin, Linneus and Laclede. The purpose of the meeting was to get an organization perfected to try to secure a primary road through Putnam, Sullivan, Linn, and Chariton counties and leading to the Missouri river. The meeting was well attended by an enthusiastic bunch of real live wire road boosters. Putnam county failed to get any representatives here. The name of the organization is North Central Missouri River Route. Joe Nickell was elected president, Lou M. Hass, secretary-treasurer, B. B. Pratt, Unionville vice-president, T. T. Morgan, vice-president, Milan R. C. Mullins, vice-president, Linneus. The vice-presidents are to appoint committees for each town in their respective counties and collect money for the necessary expense of the organization. Steps are to be taken to at once get a perfect working organization in each town in the counties, and including Chariton county. There are to be 1500 miles of primary or real roads in the state and if these counties can secure one of them it would be a great advantage to the people of these counties to do so. Every one was enthusiastic about the proposition and the meeting will certainly result in doing good. The following were the out-of-town boosters who were present. Linneus: W. P. Thorne, R. C. Mullins, C. V. Gibson, F. L. Fitch, D. B. Ormiston, J. H. Collins, W. B. Hill, Pollock: G. E. Reighard, C. C. Tinsch, Milan: Lou M. Hass, E. L. Chafee, Geo. McCormick, T. T. Morgan, Ed Michaels, L. T. Butler, James Morehead, Chas. Dickson, Purdin: W. W. Western, W. T. McGhee.—Brownings Leader-Record.

Many more enrollments are expected at the Chillicothe Business College next week, and it is being arranged so that these students may enter the new classes which were organized at the summer opening, June 5th.

Nick Hiatt, the specialty man at the W. W. White garage, came near losing his sedan the last of the week. The only reason he did not was because of the safety wheel he has installed on his car. The fellows who attempted to get away with it were experts in the game. They had the foot board out and were attempting to insert a wire which would jump the juice over the regular lock all cars are provided with, when they were frightened away. Nick says they were persistent in their attempts to get his car as they came back a second time.

At the Primary election in August the Democrats are supposed to nominate a Democrat candidate for the United States Senate. How many dyed-in-the-wool Republicans have you heard say that they want to vote for Reed in the primary? Can you name one that wants to vote for Long? How many of these same Republicans who want to vote for Reed in the primary do you believe would vote for Reed in the general election? Doesn't this indicate to your mind that the Republicans recognize Long as an unswerving Democrat and Reed as one of their own kind?

In the 1920 election Reed did not make a single speech for the Democratic ticket in the State of Missouri. He did not make a speech in Jackson county where the Democratic organization went down the line for him in the convention fight at Joplin. After the National Convention went on record favoring the Treaty at San Francisco he continued his fight against the Treaty and against the President. There is but one name for a man who followed his course—REED IS A BOLTER. To give Reed the nomination for the United States Senate from this state would be putting a premium on bolting and the party in Missouri had as well disorganize.
